

Can you remove stains from marble floors in an entry way ?

Q. Can you remove stains from marble floors in an entry way? The entrances has 36 tiles. The stain covers about about 10 tiles. We don't know what caused the stains, because they were here when we bought the house. We suspect it may be dog urine.

A. If we were dealing with a small surface area, then DIY methods might be an option, but since the problem covers 10 tiles, this is a job for a professional stone restoration contractor. Most stains can be removed, some cannot. A PRO will be able to determine whether restoration or replacement is your best option. Please contact your stone professional. If you do not already have one, contact us, because we may be able to recommend a PRO near you.

Online URL:

<https://sr-manual.com/kb/article/can-you-remove-stains-from-marble-floors-in-an-entry-way-366.html>